THE LIST

Working from home? The List members have all the office inspiration you need

Take inspiration from these beautifully designed home offices from members of The List...

If you're working from home or planning a new study, look no further than the members of House & Garden's online director The List for inspiration and ideas. From elegant offices to cosy corners redesigned to fit a desk, our favourite designers show you how to make the most of your workspace.

Bright and colourful in her inimitable style, Liz Caan and her team sectioned off the second floor landing 'to provide a cozy and removed space hidden away from the hustle and bustle of this family home - while still remaining within earshot of the action. French doors provide architectural interest and colourful accents liven up this hidden nook.'
